

It is my belief that the government has no business reading my email or any other transactions of information that are made over the Internet. It's not as if the US Government runs it anyway, it is a global network.